

2010 FIFA World Cup™ Participating Tour Operators - As of 18th December 2009

In order to select tour operators for the 2010 FIFA World Cup™ Tour Operator Programme, 2010 FIFA World Cup™ Ticketing Pty Limited (“FIFA”) implemented a comprehensive application process, whereby interested tour operators could submit detailed answers to a series of questions intended to assess their reliability and professionalism. After reviewing the applications submitted to date, FIFA has selected the tour operators identified on the list below. In addition to submitting detailed applications, the tour operators listed below have entered into written agreements with FIFA pursuant to which they have been allocated match tickets. They are permitted to include these tickets in travel packages they create and sell under their own terms of business, so long as they comply with the requirements of their written agreements with FIFA. FIFA has taken steps to ensure that the tour operators selected are reliable and professional, but cannot assume legal liability for the travel services to be provided by Participating Tour Operators to their respective customers – which is a matter to be addressed in the agreement between the Participating Tour Operators and the respective customers. Updates to this list will be provided from time to time.
